

JUGE NAPOLITANO

GUILBEAU RULI FRIEMAN APLC

Lee Eric Bess v. XXXX

While working for Graphic Packaging, claimant Lee Eric Bess(OWCA District 1 E), alleged the development of carpal tunnel syndrome (CTS) in both hands related to an alleged occupational disease during his employment.

Orthopedic SMO expert and State IME expert opined that the condition was arthritic and authorized the claimant's return to full-duty work capacity as he had no work-related issues nor was the condition related to his employment.

Juge-Napolitano filed a Motion for Summary Judgment. The MSJ was granted by Judge Irving finding that the claimant's disputed claim should be dismissed with prejudice.
